Concerning two other illustrious verts, i may be mentioned that Archbishep Manning's half chests Tea, 1,210 chests Tea, and 314 cases reply to Mr. Gladstone has just been published; and that Father Newman's reply sold to the number of 12,000 copies in a very few days, and is still selling largely. Father Newman has been bringing out a new edition of his tale "Lious and Gain," which he published many years ago, and in which he depicted the conversion of an Ozonian to the Roma Oburch This edition he has dedicated to Dr. Russell President of Maynooth College, wio, by the way, is the author of the article on "Michael Scott, the Wizard," in the January number of the Irish Monthly.—Bigaro.

The French papers announce the death a Parie of M. Emile de Bonnechose, aged seventyfour, brother of the Cardinal Archbishop of Ronen. The deceased was director of the libraries of the Palaces of Versailles and Compiegne, and author of a great number of works of morit, and among them "Resemonds," a-tragedy, represented at the Theatre Francais in Le Mort de Bailly " (1833), a poem which obtained the prize at the French Aca demy; a "Histoire de France" (1834); "Christophe Banval, ou la Société en France sous la Restauration" (1836); "Histoire Sacree (1838); " Les Reformateurs avent hereforme du XVme Siècle"; "Gerson, Jean Huss et le Concils de Constance (1844); "Bistoire d'Angleterre" (1859); a work at a liter period translated into English and published in London in a popular form. A. M. de Bonnechose also laboured at the "Complément du Dictionppire de l'Academie," and contribeted many articles to the Rovue Contemporaine.

The latest "interesting archaelogical discovery" has been made in Crete. The monks of a convent which occupies the site of the ancient and once celebrated town of Aptera have dug up two life-size female statues draped after the fashion of ladies who moved in "Society "three thousand years ago. The question as to the identity of these statues has, it is stated, raised a lively continuersy among local archnologists. By some it is maintained, on the strength of a barely legible inscription on the pedestal of one of the statues, that they represent a daughter of the Emperor Claudius. The inscription is however so cludially cut, and represents so rule a contrast with the exquisite chiselling of the figures themselves, that it is supposed by others to have been made by an inexperienced hand at a comhing to local trader. paratively recent epoch. ENGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCIATION. An ANGLO-UNINESE DICTIONARY, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong.

LOR comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and material. in science generally, which the rapid advance Every of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extense. Each and every word in fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given, the scoents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have beretofore haracterized Chinese publications. To illustrate the yest scope of the work, the ollowing hate are submitted for consideration haloners' Yocabularly contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chines Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and apwards of 600,000 Chinese characters.
